

Adam Smith

INTERNATIONAL

Graduate Role

Adam Smith International (ASI) is a leading government and economic reform consultancy that provides advice to foreign governments, with particular focus on developing countries. Our work is funded by donor agencies such as the UK Government's Department for International Development, the World Bank, the Asian Development Bank and directly by host governments.

Our consulting staff are young, energetic and committed. We work in two practices: Government Reform and Economic Reform. From our offices in London, New Delhi and Nairobi, ASI staff travel extensively, managing projects in Africa, the Middle East, South Asia, Eastern Europe and the Caribbean.

We work at senior (Ministerial) level with client governments, public enterprises, business membership organisations, NGOs and donor agencies, seeking to apply our professional and consulting skills towards improving the quality of life for the citizens of countries facing the need for economic, political and social change.

Our aim is to deliver cutting edge economic and governance assistance underpinned by practical support for ministers, officials, managers and citizens at all levels. Our service offering includes private sector development, infrastructure reform, natural resource management, financial sector reform, public administration reform, public financial management and post conflict restructuring.

We require

We are looking to recruit two high calibre graduates for a 9 month assistantship at our London office, starting in September 2010. Successful applicants will be dynamic and energetic team players with:

- a good degree;
- a demonstrable interest in political economy and management consultancy;
- outstanding written English;
- enthusiasm, flexibility and tact;
- excellent computer skills – Word, Excel, PowerPoint; and
- clear communication skills.

We offer

We offer the successful candidates a friendly team environment and a chance to build technical and consulting skills in the economic development industry. This will be achieved through a variety of work including: project management, business development, technical consulting, financial management, research and policy papers.

We offer £23,000 pa and 25 days annual leave.

How to apply

Interested candidates should send a CV and cover letter describing why you feel you are a strong candidate for this highly competitive position to leo.deliss@adamsmithinternational.com with the subject line 'ASI Graduate Role'. Applications should arrive by 30th June 2010 (or by 31st March 2010 for Early Bird Applications). Interviews will take place soon after.